Pre-Anesthetic/Surgery Consent Release Form

Your pet is here for anesthesia/surgery and should do fine. Prior to anesthesia we will perform a full Physical exam to assess his/her state of health. However, pre-existing conditions not evident in a pre-surgical exam can and/or lead to unforeseen complications. This is why we highly recommend the procedures listed below:

Pre-anesthetic blood panel to screen for any liver or kidney problems that could interfere with anesthetic recovery.

The cost for this procedure is $88.50. (Mandatory for pets over 7 years. $172.50)

- Yes – I wish to have the recommended test for my pet
- No – I have decided to refuse the recommended bloodwork at this time and request that
- SHAH continue with the procedure
Doctor’s discretion

I.V. Catheter placed preoperatively giving us the means to quickly treat any complications, which may arise. This is required with certain procedures. The cost for this is $54.75.

You may also elect to have your pet micro-chipped while he/she under anesthesia. You will be able to have your pet’s information registered into a national database to aid in identification and recovery should your pet ever become lost. The cost for this is $65.00.  Yes  No

You may also elect to radiograph your pet’s hips while he/she is under anesthesia. This will help us accurately evaluate conformation and screen for signs of dysplasia. The cost for this is $266.25.  Yes  No

** I understand there are inherent risks with anesthesia/surgery and will not hold Sugar Hill Animal Hospital responsible for unseen complications.
